A Couzens Landslide
Franks Case Evils
No "Klavern," Thanks

DETROIT, in a landslide, nominates Couzens for the Senate. Michigan country places that did not know Couzens well voted against him. But the city of Detroit, where, as Mayor, he had the courage and intelligence to establish municipal ownership and make a success of it, knows him.

It's partly a political victory for Couzens' stand in favor of beer for workmen. It is even more a tribute to Couzens as an individual.

BECAUSE of their youth the young Chicago murderers, Loeb and Leopold, are sentenced to jail for life, not sent to the gallows. It was a strange scene in a "self-governing nation," picked riflemen to protect the judge from attack, a ring of police keeping the public a block away from the "people's court." There had been threats to bomb the court. Only the criminals, their families, lawyers and newspaper men heard the sentence.

IN ILLINOIS "life imprisonment" usually means release in from six to fourteen years. The cry that "money will get the young men out of jail" is not based on fact. There could be no greater misfortune for the fathers and the mother in this case than to have those sons again at large.

That celebrated case is over, for the time being. There may be other chapters of it.

MRS. TOWNSEND, the great-great-granddaughter of Israel Putnam, asked the Connecticut Republicans to denounce the Ku Klux Klan. They wouldn't do it, nor would they accept a resolution by other women, endorsing the child labor amendment to the Constitution.

Israel Putnam, you know is the man that distinguished himself at Bunker Hill, was nearly burned alive by the Indians, and killed a wolf, after following into a dark cavern with a blazing torch.

The Connecticut Republicans apparently think that a "klavern" filled with Ku Kluxers is "something else again."

AN INTELLIGENT GERMAN, knowing that the government wants to make the Dawes plan popular, says "Explain it on moving picture films for ten minutes every day."

In an hour moving pictures can teach the young mind, young in years' or young in digesting power, more than books could teach in one month.

The future of the moving picture is in the schools. George Eastman, of Rochester, who, it is said, plans to develop education by moving pictures, will render a great service to human knowledge.

MONEY LENDERS seized the harem of Prince Abdul Kadir, because he won't pay his debts. There are fifteen "beautiful Circassians" in that harem, and from your heart, as you read, you say, "Neither a borrower nor a lender be." Who, after he has built up a harem of fifteen beautiful Circassians, would like to lose it through debt? And who, if he didn't have such a harem, would want to have it "wished" upon him?

THE DAY'S most important news for the future ages is this. Dr. Daly, senior professor of chemistry in the University of Liverpool, says he can manufacture sugar out of plain water and carbon dioxide. That's how nature manufactures it in plants, through the green leaves. It is a deep process, first making formaldehyde of the carbon dioxide and water, then applying ultra-violet light—a color invisible to our eyes—to make the sugar.

IF SCIENCE can imitate plants on a big scale, manufacturing sugar and protein from carbon dioxide in the air, and the water in the ground, one food problem will be solved.

However, don't be in a hurry to sell your Cuban sugar plantation.

BROKER FAY JAILED FOR STEALING

Congress Street Operator, a Drug Addict, Sentenced to Serve 18 Months

Ralph G. Fay, Boston stock broker, formerly of Wilson, Fay & Company, No. 5 Congress street, was sentenced today to eight months in the House of Correction when he pleaded guilty before Judge Raymond in suffolk county superior court to five counts of larceny from customers.

Fay has been for some time at the State farm at Bridgewater taking the cure for the drug habit.

Assistant District Attorney Maurice Caro explained to the court today that it was the drug habit which was responsible for the downfall of the broker.

Fay was noted at one time as being one of the cleverest stock salesmen in the street.

According to Caro, Fay's treatment at the institution has been very successful.

Fay was arrested during the first days of the George F. Redmond, Inc., smash, and was indicted on thirty-five counts of larceny from customers. Today he pleaded guilty to only five counts, totalling $353.75 from James Hession of South Hunting avenue, Jamaica plain.

Hession complained that Fay sold him stock which was never deliv-

U. S. Bankers Warn France, Belgium to Quit Ruhr

Geneva, Sept. 11 (Universal Cable).—The American bankers have served notice on France and Belgium that military evacuation of the Ruhr is an indispensable condition for the flotation of the first loan of $200,000,000 to Germany under the Dawes plan, according to a report in high places here.

The American financiers are reported to be exceedingly exact in their attitude toward France and Belgium who, while promising to evacuate the Ruhr within a year, are declared to be seeking an excuse to prolong the occupation of certain sections.

THREAT MADE TO BLOW UP SLAYERS

Chicago, Sept. 11.—After a night in which a new threat to blow up the County Jail brought Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman speeding into Chicago, Richard A. Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., under sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of Robert Franks, fourteen years old, today awaited their removal to Joliet Penitentiary.

The nineteen-year-old youths, who confessed they killed "to get a thrill," amused themselves by playing cards pending the start for Joliet.

Sheriff Hoffman disclosed the latest threat, a repetition of many others made by cranks, he said.

BLOWUP THREATENED.

It was about 11:30 P. M. when he received the anonymous telephone call telling him that the jail was to be blown up.

"I jumped into my car and came 60 miles an hour to the jail, arriving about midnight, just to make sure

POLICEMEN BEATEN BY GIRL

Invades Station House and With Fist and Shoe Attacks Two Stalwarts

With her bare fists and a shoe which she pulled off in the heat of battle, Mrs. Elizabeth Marks, 24 years old, of West Cottage street, Roxbury, today pummelled Lieutenant Killen of the Dudley street police station and then knocked out Patrolman King who had rushed to help his superior.

The young war took place in the police station itself.

It had been a quiet morning there until Mrs. Marks entered. She asked Lieutenant Killen to send a patrolman with her to take her children away from a house in Brookford street where she said her husband had placed them.

The Lieutenant explained that he couldn't do that.

"Whack!" The battle was on. The woman dashed behind the desk, tore the spectacles from the Lieutenant's eyes and was mauling him when Patrolman King stepped in.

Mrs. Marks didn't want a third man in the ring, so she reached down, pulled off one of her shoes and started in anew. When she finished King was down for the count. Other officers rushed in and placed her in a cell.

In Roxbury court Judge Hayden filed the complaint of assault upon the Lieutenant and sentenced Mrs. Marks to a month in Charles street jail for assault on the patrolman. He later suspended this sentence.

LAWYER RIDDLES BODY OF DALLAS ATTORNEY

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 11 (I. N.)—Paul M. O'Day, prominent Dallas attorney, was shot and killed in a downtown bank today.

William L. Crawford, another attorney, declared he shot "to avenge an insult to my mother," according to the police.

O'Day's body was riddled with charges from a shotgun.

LITTLE CASH BEING WAGERED ON FIGHT

Jersey City, Sept. 11.—The wooden seats at Boyle's Thirty Acres, scene of tonight's Firpo-Wills bout, received their first real "baking" in a week today. Although the temperature was 46 at 3:15 a. m., the sun came out this forenoon and the Weather Bureau said the cold wave would be over before tonight, although topcoats would probably be in order. The skies were cloudless.

By JACK CONWAY

New York, Sept. 11.—Luis Firpo and Harry Wills will furnish the heavyweight classic of the season when they battle in a twelve-round bout at Boyle's Thirty Acres at Jersey City tonight. All of the efforts of the reformers to prevent the tussle have failed.

There is less betting on the outcome of the clash between Firpo and Wills than on any heavyweight contest of importance held during the decade. The "wise" money is off this contest.

Along Broadway, where sporting men with keen minds and a knowledge of past performances gather, no money is being wagered on the probable winner. Most of them will tell you that Wills should win. But that Firpo may be the victor.

We talked with one sportsman who has wagered as much as $50,000 on a single athletic event. When asked his opinion of the bout he replied:

"I am not betting a single cent

REFUSES TO ARREST FIRPO

Federal Judge in Newark Declines to Issue Warrant That Would Stop Tonight's Bout

Newark, Sept. 11 (I. N. S.)—Federal Judge William N. Runyon today denied an application for a warrant for the arrest of Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine pugilist, on the charge of violating the Mann White Slave Act.

The charge had been made by Herbert Clark Gibson, attorney for five organizations seeking to shut the Firpo-Wills fight, scheduled to take place at Jersey City tonight.

Gibson and three New Jersey ministers were present when the judge handed down his decision.

The organizations which Gibson represented had accused Firpo of bringing Bianca Lourdes Pleart, Cuban manicurist, from Atlantic City to New York last year. Judge Runyon, in making his decision, said:

ANOTHER OBJECT.

"A prima facie case has not been presented. Granting even that a perfectly valid prima facie case had been made, I should have hesitated to lend the power and dignity of this court to a proceeding which, although doubtless conceived in entire sincerity of purpose, has for its

Virtually every community in New England tomorrow takes part in the celebration of National Defense Day—a mobilization test to show what is required of reserve soldiers and patriotic citizens in time of emergency.

The military phase of the day, with mobilization of troops in scores of cities and towns, and soldiers responding from practically every section, will be apparent in every city, town, village and hamlet.

In addition, there will be patriotic programs in many places, with evening parades, meetings and speech-making.

'SILENT CAL' GETS A SILENT CHEER FROM DEAF AND DUMB CLUB MEMBERS

"TEN little fingers and ten little toes," all over United States are cheering for "Silent Cal" Coolidge, as shown below.

This is battle-cry of deaf and dumb "Coolidge Clubs" being formed all over the nation. "Hurrah for Coolidge!" Note that there is no "hip, hip" in the yell—no hips at all, just fingers, in fact, though ardent supporters may cheer with their toes in their sleep.

There are thousands of deaf and dumb voters. When they cut loose a rousing "three times three" for Silent Cal, the house won't "come down," but manicuring business will go up, rising by leaps and broken fingernails.

Mrs. Coolidge used to teach in a deaf and dumb school before she was married. So "Silent Cal" may understand this cheer demonstration by Michael Danzig of the New York School for Improved Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb.

PARADES WILL BE GREAT FEATURE TOMORROW

tributed throughout New England to deliver addresses and handle the inspection of troops whose degree of perfection in attendance, drill and equipment they will report to the War Department in Washington.

On Boston Common there will be an observance in the evening at which Governor Cox will be the guest of honor. Fifty military organizations will be mobilized there, including the Thirteenth U. S. Infantry and several bands.

There will be a colorful parade when the Governor is escorted to the Common from the State House by the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company. The other troops will march to and from their quarters.

The Ancients, led by a military band, will march from their armory in Faneuil Hall at 6 o'clock parading via Merchants row, State street, Washington, School and Beacon to the State House.

EXCUSES NOT ACCEPTED.

At their home stations, armories or camps, or throughout the country, all the active units of the regular army, all Federally organized units of the National Guard, and all units of the organized reserves will be mobilized. No excuse, except that of duty necessity requiring a soldier's presence elsewhere, will be accepted as valid for absence.

The New England Defense Day headquarters and the center of operations is at the Army Base, South Boston, where preparations have been underway for months. Colonel George S. Goodale, charged with the task of popularizing the day in this section, has received hundreds of letters telling of celebration plans throughout New England.

A representative celebration on the civil side of the day is being held at Wellesley, where Major Stuart Godfrey of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A., will be the principal speaker.

In Manchester, N. H., there will be addresses explaining the nature of the National Defense Act and the reasons for setting this day apart.

In view of the opposition to the day set forth by some ministers, the celebration of Somerville is noteworthy. Rev. George Lawson of the Baptist Church, former army chaplain, is taking an active part. He is president of the "Fighting Parsons Club" of Massachusetts.

The American Legion and other veterans' organizations are foremost in arrangements for the observance. Ministers in Boston and other cities have spoken publicly in favor of and explaining the purposes of the day.

GEN. PERSHING'S IDEA.

Defense Day originated in the War Department, as a test of how quickly companies, battalions, regiments and brigades can be assembled, and General Pershing is generally credited with having inspired it.

"The defense day test should inform the public of the plans and methods by which the American armies will be raised in event of any national emergency," declared Secretary of War Weeks, describing the nature of the observance.

"The test will be a tryout of our small regular forces and the National Guard," said General Pershing. "More especially it will show the preliminary steps required for the prompt utilization of our large reserve forces of patriotic citizens.

EACH MAN WILL KNOW.

"We hope by this defense test to impress upon the individual officer and soldier his particular function, if war comes. We have never before undertaken such a step in instruction and in the last emergency we found ourselves in a very serious dilemma.

JUDGE REFUSES TO ARREST FIRPO

object the use of the processes of this court as a means of accomplishing interference with the lawful functions of the State of New Jersey as expressed in and allowed by its statutes.

"The affidavits fail to show that comitation of acts on the part of Firpo, which would constitute him an offender against the provisions of the white slave traffic act.

"There is no showing of any fact other than that the woman apparently of her own accord, after Firpo had come to New Jersey, followed him here and took up her abode in Atlantic City, while he remained in his training quarters.

"The real object of this proceeding, it appears to the court, is not that which appears on the face of the moving papers—the punishment of an individual for alleged violation of the laws of the United States, but in reality it is an attempt to gain possession of the person for a sufficient time to prevent his participation in a contest which the laws of the State of New Jersey have declared to be entirely legal."

ONLY ONE RELEVANT.

Judge Runyon reviewed previous court proceedings against Firpo, discussed evidence in each briefly, took up the charges that he had violated the immigration laws and then declared that only the affidavit of "one Guillermo Widmer, who describes himself as former secretary of Firpo," was at all relevant.

This affidavit, Judge Runyon said he had learned, contained facts which constituted the real foundation for the appeal for a bench warrant against Firpo—"his alleged relations with the Picart woman."

The statement of three complaining clergymen, Runyan said, though much more voluminous, contained less detail than the affidavit of Widmer, and could, so far as the court was concerned, be judicially disregarded.

The New Jersey ministers, James Tarker, Frank S. Ritter and Harvey L. Wyatt, conferred with their attorney, Gilson, as soon as the decision had been made, and then passed to Canon Chase of Brooklyn, who has led the fight against Firpo. They explained that they expected him to come there in a short time to see what other last-minute moves they could make in an attempt to stop the fight.

Jack Conway's blow by blow story of the Wills-Firpo fight will be megaphoned by the Boston American in Winthrop square tonight. The fight is expected to be one of the closest in ring history.

nude body was found floating in the Amonoosuc river at Groveton, N. H., last June.

The case was set for trial next Monday, and owing to the flood, which has blocked all traffic, the prisoners were lodged in the hotel here.

The body of Mrs. Wallace, also known as Katherine Mason, a 24 year old divorcee, was found in the river after she had been missing for ten days. The police arrested Miss Huntoon, Osman Cowette, Oscar Tanguay and R. Martin, all of Berlin, N. H., and they were indicted for second degree murder on July 3.

They were said to have admitted that Mrs. Wallace was with them on an automobile ride, the objective of which was several line houses. On the way home the two girls got into an argument and left the car to settle it. The Huntoon girl returned alone, and the men said told them Mrs. Wallace was sulking, so they drove on.

New York, Sept. 11.—A movement to organize a labor union for manicurists and hair dressers was started today when five men and women working in beauty parlors of this city applied to Supreme Court Justice Donohue for incorporation papers under the name of the Independent beauty parlor workers of New York, Inc.

The petitioners stated they intended to admit manicurists, hair wavers will be made for membership in the organization. Later application will be made for memebership in the American Federation of Labor.

BROTHER OF COOK IN LISTS AS CANDIDATE

Plenty of cooks is the slogan of the G. O. P. voters in the State this year. Good or bad, it is all the same just so long as they are cooks. The quality of the broth is of no concern.

They renominated Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook without a contest, gave State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook a decisive majority over his two competitors and for good measure, nominated Washington Cook, Alonzo's brother, for the Governor's council from the 2nd district.

William W. Ollendorff, who was defeated for renomination as councillor by Washington Cook, is being urged to run in the November election on stickers.

Strado V. Claggett of Newton, a veteran of the World War, and a graduate of Leland Stanford University and Harvard Law School, will be the Democratic opponent of State Auditor Cook.

Although the Democrats made no nomination on the ballot, provision was made for Claggett's running on stickers. At the headquarters of the Democratic State Committee today it was learned that enough stickers had been used to insure Claggett's nomination. Under the law, 1,000 are required.

Claggett, it is understood, was drafted to make the run by Senator Walsh.

THIEVES RIFLE OFFICES, GET ONLY $107

Thieves, believed by the police to be amateurs, entered the six-story building at No. 295-297 Congress street some time during the night, broke open a number of desks and stole $107.

The money was taken from the office of the Home City Electrotype Company on the fourth floor. One hundred dollars were taken from the desk of the treasurer, Joseph Hamilton, and seven from a clerk's desk. Damage to the furniture will amount to more than the money stolen.

The thieves entered through a door on the first floor. They broke open in clumsy fashion all the desks in the office of the C. H. Simonds Printing Company and got nothing. A small safe in office on the sixth floor was not touched.

FEAR OF DEATH CAUSE OF OLD AGE, SAYS 60-YEAR-OLD FLAPPER

MIND HOLDS ONLY KEY TO LIFE

Gland Transplantation Futile; Secret Lies Within Ourselves, She Says

Boston's original sixty-year-old flapper is in town.

Slim, fair-skinned mad possessing her wealth of brown, bobbed locks, she looks like the sunny side of thirty.

"By the calendar, I'm sixty years old," confesses Dr. Alice Jewel, Ph.D., Boston psychologist, just returned from Paris, "but—well, who cares for calendars anyway?"

Dr. Jewel plans to live at least 250 years and is here to tell Boston folk to do likewise.

"It's not glands nor Coue nor anything," says Dr. Jewel; "it's all in your own mind."

Dr. Jewel, incidentally, "psyched" the intrepid "Mike" Crowley, Hub chief of police, from his picture and sent a stiletter of romance into the headquarters sanctum of hard-boiled coppers.

Dr. Jewel makes her analysis entirely by the lines and character delineations of the face and eyes. She has "psyched" presidents and other notables.

Rainy afternoons and desert island and entre-deux an' all that—that's the proper setting for a dauntless "Mike"—not the prosy headquarters desk in Pemberton square, according to Dr. Jewel.

"FULL OF SUNSHINE"

And the lady psychologist goes further:

"He furnishes the sunshine, good humor, brilliant wit and the jolly spirit with which to beguile the hour. He is a good mixer. He is lovable and democratic—a friend and comrade."

Ah-h-h!

"His photograph," says Dr. Jewel, "shows him to be a man of sunny disposition, a man who naturally makes friends because he is so good-hearted. In his official duty, he gives first offenders and the young another chance, both because he likes to help them and because it is not easy for him to inflict pain upon others.

"He is a splendid story teller, one whom all children love and rally around as they rally around Santa Claus.

"The Chief of Police of Boston is frank and fair in all his dealings with his fellow-men. His strongest characteristics are great physical and moral courage. He has a fine sense of duty, a picturesque imagination and a perennial power to view life from the optimistic standpoint.

"NEEDS MORE EXERCISE."

"He is of good health but needs to take more exercise to keep him fit. He has a solid, firm walk and moves with great momentum. He has poise, calmness and self-reliance. Chief Crowley is a man equipped by nature for the high position he occupies for he has deep reverence for his people and his God."

"It's death that makes us grow old," says Dr. Jewel, "nothing but death. It lies in our subconscious minds from the time we're children—a lurking, sinister fear of death.

"I'm here to teach people to free themselves from that centuries-old thought. We are just beginning to learn that there is such a thing as mind control, but we know as little about it as we do about Mars.

"Gland transplantation has nothing to do with it. The secret is in the Bible and in ourselves.

"We are surprised when we hear of a woman of seventy falling in love with a young man—but why not? If the woman is properly rejuvenated, she can raise a family and be just as charming as a girl of twenty."

EX-ENVOY TO U. S. MADE ECUADORAN "PRESIDENT"

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Sept. 11.—The Ecuadorean rebels have proclaimed as their leader Dr. Rafael Maria Arizaga, acting minister to Brazil, who is said at present to be in Panama.

Dr. Arizaga was minister to the United States during President Taft's administration and represented Ecuador at the Pan-American conference in Santiago, Chile, last year.

A Guayaquil dispatch yesterday said troops had been dispatched from Quito to the northern part of Ecuador to suppress a revolutionary movement.

SOVIET FORCES BEING RUSHED TO GEORGIA

Constantinople, Sept. 10 (A.P.).—The struggle between the insurgents and the Soviet forces in the Georgian Republic is continuing fiercely, according to the latest reports reaching here.

The insurgents hold the principal trans-Caucasian railway, which runs through Tiflis to Baku.

Martial law has been proclaimed throughout the Caucasus and Soviet troops are being hurried to Georgia.

NEWTON WIDOW FIGHTS TO GET MORE MONEY

The battle of Mrs. Cecilia A. Byfield of No. 15 Eldredge street, Newton, to have the value of her home, which has been seized by the city, set at $40,000, did not end with the jury verdict for $12,224.31.

Although this is more than $7,770 set by the city of Newton, Mrs. Byfield is still not satisfied, and her attorney, Robert Adair of Wilmington, Del., today declared he would appeal.

Further complicating the tangled legal situation which has resulted from Mrs. Byfield's stubborn fight, a Supreme Court hearing will be held tomorrow to decide whether the city can oust the widow from her home pending the appeal.

For two years now Mrs. Byfield has successfully defied the city in its attempt to seize her property so that it can complete the construction of the Underwood school building.

The exact form of the appeal has not been settled, but Attorney Adair intends to base it on a charge that the Superior Court jury was not given sufficient evidence upon which to fix its appraisal.

POTATO CROP ESTIMATE SHOWS GAIN

August conditions for potatoes were more favorable than in July in four New England states, changed but little in Rhode Island, and declared slightly in New Hampshire, according to the bulletin today of the New England Crop Reporting Service of the United States Department of Agriculture in Wakefield.

On September 1 a crop eighty-eight per cent. of normal promised 41,971,000 bushels, compared with the 35,488,000 bushels indicated on August 1.

Maine promised 30,186,000 bushels, seventy per cent. of the New England total, compared with 28,596,000, the five-year average. Quality is likely to be high and further increase in production seems probable. Aroostook county crop promises good yields of excellent quality.

PRINCE RIDES IN A JOLLY FOX HUNT

Syosset, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Britain's heir rode in his first Long Island fox hunt today.

For three and a half hours the gay young Prince of Wales rode to hounds, holding a firm seat on a white horse which carried him over twelve rail fences, took him over a score of ditches and over many miles of Long Island fields.

It was all very jolly—a tremendous success—his highness affirmed at the close, although no game had been brought in. Standing on the porch of his holiday home at the James A. Burden House, Prince Edward removed his black bowler, gave his sweating face and brow a vigorous mopping, and assured Captain A. F. Lascelles that he had enjoyed himself thoroughly.

OFF EARLY IN MORNING.

The hunt, organized by the Meadow Brook Hunt Club, started at 5:30 o'clock, at which hour thirty men and women reoplendent in the traditional scarlet of followers of the ancient sport, rode through the misty Autumn morning to the Burden estate. The tooting of the huntsman's horn aroused the Prince, who soon appeared with Captain Lascelles. His Highness wore a khaki riding habit and a gay yellow sweater.

It was a lively party, although all members of it had danced late into the night at the Jericho home of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, 2d., where the Prince was guest of honor. "Ghost," a handsome white hunter belonging to Harvey Ladew, was led out for the Prince. He mounted, the master of hounds tooted his horn and they were off.

LIKE CUB HUNTING.

The flashing red of the hunters, the gliding thoroughbreds, the baying of the eager hounds, the dash through underbrush and timber whose dew-laden leaves flashed in the sun, brought a smile to the Prince's lips. He remarked to a member of the party that it was all very like cub hunting, as the September sport is called in his homeland. He was impressed with the well-trained animals and the ability of the hunters to jump timber.

Only once did "Ghost" disappoint his rider. This was when he refused a try at a fence just after he had skimmed gracefully over another particularly high one. The royal rider urged his mount for a moment, but when he continued to hesitate, he rode around the barrier and continued the chase.

Three of the women were thrown, but none was hurt, although one was stunned.

The hounds were unable to run down any one of a half dozen cubs,

POLICE MOVE IN WALES' PARTY GEM THEFT

Private Detectives Hint Inside Job in Big $250,000 Jewel Robbery

New York, Sept. 11.—Although Chief of Police Frederick J. Snow of Port Washington, Long Island, had asserted he would not "stick his nose in where he wasn't asked," he today announced he was going to start an investigation of the jewel robbery at the home of J. S. Cosden, oil millionaire. Despite the fact that jewels valued at $250,000 were stolen from Mrs Cosden and Lady Mountbatten, a member of the Prince of Wales' party, no report was made to the Port Washington police, he said.

All he knows about it, outside of what he has read in the papers, is that Mrs. Cosden had requested him to post several policemen about her estate to keep reporters away. He wants to know the facts before he makes such a move.

HINT INSIDE JOB.

Investigators in charge of the search for jewelry today were convinced that entrance was not forced from the outside of the building.

They reached this conclusion after they had made careful examination of the premises and after questioning the twenty servants employed in the Cosden household.

The investigators were more puzzled than ever in their search for a clue when they learned that a steward employed by Mr. Cosden had been on duty on the ground floor of the house throughout Monday night. In addition, guards were on duty continually on the grounds of the estate, known as "The Cedars." Questioning of the servants, twelve of whom are women, is being continued.

LOST VALUABLE RINGS.

Articles stolen from Mrs. Cosden, it was learned today, included a black pearl ring, valued at $40,000, a pink pearl ring worth $25,000 and a pigeon blood ruby ring, valued at more than $30,000.

Lady Mountbatten, who, with Lord Mountbatten, is visiting at the Cosden home, lost rings and bracelets worth $15,000. Lord Mountbatten is a cousin of the Prince of Wales, who was a guest at two social functions at the Cosden home last week.

MERCHANTS WILL PLAN FOR NEW ENGLAND WEEK

Final plans for New England week will be laid tomorrow when more than five hundred buyers and merchandise managers will meet at Jordan Marsh company's auditorium. Among the speakers will be Felix Vorenberg, president of the Retail Trade Board of the Boston Chamber of Commerce; George H. Johnson, chairman of the Boston Committee of Department and Specialty Stores; John Lawrence, chairman of the All New England Week Committee; Mark Burlingame, chairman of the publicity committee, and John F. Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee of New England Boosters.

REFORM IN SOCIALISM VITAL, SAYS M'DONALD

London, Sept. 11 (A.P.).—That the present day tendencies among the workers threaten the ideals of genuine socialism is the fear expressed by Premier MacDonald in a preface he has just written for a new addition to his well known book on socialism. After defending socialism as evolutionary, not revolutionary, the Premier writes: "The revolutionary and materialistic frames of mind created by the war are becoming a serious menace to the Socialist spirit of common service. Profiteering had become universal . . . The evil is not confined to the classes generally designated as profiteers, but has infected all sections."

COOLIDGE MAY SPEAK SEPT. 25 IN PHILADELPHIA

Washington, Sept. 11.—President Coolidge has taken under consideration the invitation to speak in Philadelphia on the night of September 25, the occasion being the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the meeting of the first Continental Congress there.

U. S. CRUISER IS RUSHED TO HONDURAS

American Ship Rochester Lands 100 Sailors to Protect Consulate

Panama, Sept. 11.—The United States light cruiser Galveston, has sailed for Honduras under rush orders. The Cruisers Rochester and Tulsa are already there.

The Galveston returned to the Canal Zone from Honduras waters only a few days ago.

Washington, Sept. 11.—A landing force of 100 sailors from the light cruiser Rochester was put ashore at Ceiba, Honduras, and the ship is proceeding to Tela to act as a guard for the American consulate there.

A dispatch announcing the landing was sent by Capt. Hayne Ellis, commanding the Rochester, explaining that American and foreign lives had been threatened.

Capt. Ellis' whose message was considerably garbled, also reported that a strong force of rebels was advancing to capture towns on the north coast, and that the provisional government of Honduras, apparently because of munitions shortage was able to offer but little resistance.

It also was stated that some danger to foreign interests was expected as a result of disorder brought about by the changing of local government officials.

New Detonator Adds to Deadliness of High Explosives

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 11.—T. N. T., Picric Acid, and other high explosives it is asserted will be shot off with greater speed and make war more deadly as the result of the invention of a new booster detonator, of wide application in both peace and war, described today before the division of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry of the American Chemical Society by the inventor, Bennett Grotta of Tamaqua, Pa.

The time of explosion of T. N. T. under any circumstances is infinitesimal, and on this its effectiveness depends, it was explained. By the use of the new booster detonator it is possible, it is declared, to reduce the time of explosion still further and thus greatly increase the effectiveness of the charge.

COLD SPELL MAKES HUB SHIVER

Warmer Weather Due Tomorrow; Storm Creates Havoc

Boston awoke today to the unwelcoming realization that Summer has fled—that the "melancholy days" are just around the corner.

While the temperature that came perilously near reaching the freezing point during the night is an indication of what we may expect at any time, yet the weather reports indicate that the cold spell will not be of great duration, more seasonable temperature being predicted for tomorrow.

The cold spell came directly after one of the heaviest rainstorms ever experienced in New England. Practically five inches of rain fell during the storm and property loss, while amounting to thousands of dollars in Boston, was even greater in rural sections of New England.

40 DASH FROM BURNING BLOCK IN NORTH END

Women and Children Flee as Fire Sweeps 5-Story Building

Forty sketchily clad persons, mostly women and children, were driven into the cold of early morning today, when fire broke out in the five story brick building, No. 135 North street.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, started in the basement, and worked up into the grocery store on the first floor of Samuel Abramson, where it caused damage estimated at $700.

The other four floors, occupied by thirteen families, were filled with smoke which drove the tenants to the street by way of fire escapes.

The fire department extinguished the blaze after a stiff battle.

BOMB THREAT ON LIVES OF LOEB-LEOPOLD

Sheriff Makes Inspection of Jail Following Mysterious Message

that nothing had happened," he said. "After a thorough inspection everything appeared all right and I returned home."

The sheriff said he expected to start for Joliet about 3 P. M., with three automobiles in the official party, all guarded by heavily armed deputies.

ARMS EVERYWHERE.

The advance car, he said, would be filled with officers armed with shotguns loaded with buckshot. In the second car Loeb and Leopold would ride with four armed guards. Another contingent of guards with buckshot-charged guns would bring up the rear.

The sheriff had the guards doubled in the alley at the rear of the jail yard. A crowd of about five hundred curious persons gathered outside the entrance to the jail, but police details kept them moving.

At Joliet two vacant cells in court solitary and the dull deadly routine of penitentiary life await the slayers.

TO GET NO FAVORS.

John L. Whitman, warden of Joliet, has made it known they will receive none of the favors which were possible during their stay in the Cook County jail. They will doff their jaunty clothing for the regulation blue denim of the convict. Their smoothly slicked black hair will undergo cropping at the hands of the prison barber.

Their fingerprints and Bertillon measurements will be taken and the transformation of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Robert A. Loeb, sons of Chicago millionaires, to Numbers 9306 and 9306 in the Illinois State Penitentiary—two of two thousand fellow convicts rising daily at 4 and retiring daily at 8.30—will be accomplished.

WILL MAKE CHAIRS.

By tomorrow they will have started on the regular prison routine and will have been assigned to tasks in the prison chair factory. They will eat with the other prisoners and will be served the same fare. Special meals, as were allowed in the County Jail, will be forbidden, and whatever concession they gain will be because they have earned them through the prison merit system and not because they are the sons of wealth.

Their days of "experiments" and their search for thrills will be ended. They will be permitted visitors but once in the same period. Oblivion, which Whitman believes will bring to the boys that sense of balance which has been lacking in their lives, will follow the clanging of the great steel gates behind them.

TODAY

It will make you rich for many a day.

CONGRESSMAN SCHUYLER MERRITT, presiding over the Republican State convention in Connecticut, compares La Follette with Trotzky and Lenin.

Leaving out Bolshevist political views, which are matters of opinion, that is quite a compliment.

La Follette might say, like the Pullman car porter, asked to change a $100 bill, "I thank you for the compliment all the same."

Any man with the ability of Lenin and Trotzky combined would be somebody.

SUN YAT-SEN, the great Chinese leader, declares himself a Bolshevist, attacks imperialism of the big powers, and says the Chinese government is a farce with foreign diplomats ruling, etc.

If it were possible to unite the Chinese and Russian Bolshevists under one leadership, Mongolia might come marching and flying through the air to western Europe on an entirely new basis. But, fortunately, it isn't likely that anything can unite all China.

LOUIS SEIBOLD, wisely informed political writer, says John W. Davis will probably drop the Klan issue for a new issue. Judging by the Maine returns, the Klan issue in politics is like a religious issue—a good thing to leave alone.

BOY IS FOUND INJURED IN STREET

Mystery Surrounds Accident to North Brighton Child

Edward F. Barber, four years old, son of Michael Barber, of No. 11 Waverly place, North Brighton, was found unconscious between the rails of the car tracks, opposite No. 385 Western avenue, and was removed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, suffering from a fractured skull.

The police and members of the family have been unable to learn how the child was injured. John Burke, of No. 2 Parker court, Brighton, saw him lying between the car rails.

The identity of the injured boy was not learned until long after the accident. Edward did not return home from play. His mother went looking for him and was told that a boy had been injured. She went to the hospital and identified her son.

It is presumed the boy was hit by a passing automobile, but no such accident was reported.

Hub Man's Work in Hungary Praised in League Report

Geneva, Sept. 11 (AP).—Jeremiah Smith of Boston, League of Nations commissioner-general for Hungary, has achieved close and cordial co-operation with the Hungarian government, according to a report of the League's work in Hungary during the last year, which Stefano Cavazzoni presented to the Assembly today.

The Assembly's consideration of Hungarian affairs was taken up in the presence of Count Stefan Bethlen, the Hungarian Premier, who was welcomed by President Motta. Resolutions which were submitted noted with satisfaction the participation of the United States in the Hungarian loan and Mr. Smith's impartially exercised control.

LEAGUE TO WAR ON DEADLY DRUGS

Plans Laid to Lessen Use of Narcotics at Geneva Meeting

Geneva, Sept. 11 (A.P.) — A world propaganda scheme to acquaint the masses with the unfortunate consequences of the use of dangerous drugs will be carried out through the League of Nations if, as it is expected, plans adopted by the committee on sociological questions of the assembly of the League, are eventually adopted.

This step will be taken in connection with the holding in Geneva in November of an international opium conference and it indicates that the League will throw its entire influence into the task of combatting the narcotic drug evil.

The committee has formally expressed in a resolution "its utmost concern" that continued production of opium is now going on in China," and has approved recommendations of the permanent League advisory committee on opium that the aid of public opinion should be enlisted through the medium of the Far Eastern press in an endeavor to solve the problem. The League's permanent advisory committee will henceforth have additional members representing Switzerland and the Latin-American countries.

Take the entire week. Be observant. Mail your list not later than midnight on the last day of the week.

TRANSLATOR LOSES SUIT AGAINST PUBLISHERS

New York, Sept. 11.—Supreme Court Justice Proskauer dismissed a $25,000 suit brought by Nathan Haskell Dole, translator of the works of Count Leo Tolstoy, against the Oxford University Press, American branch. According to Dole's complaint, the defendant firm, a publisher of Tolstoy's plays, had sent a letter to literary editors, setting forth that the Russian author had disliked Dole's translations and that the latter was not the first translator of the complete text of Tolstoy's dramas.

BIG ICE MASS DEMOLISHES FORESTS

Mount Shasta Glacier Moving 5 Miles an Hour; Snaps Trees Like Sticks

Treka, Cal., Sept. 11.—The Mount Shasta glacier, on the north side of the mountain, is moving down the slope at a rate of five miles an hour, snapping off big trees in its path and thrusting immense boulders before it.

The movement began a short time after dawn and at noon the huge mass of ice was well within the timberline. Huge volumes of vapor are arising as the moraines of the glacier are being broken up by its movement, and these are forming one big cloud over the head of the moving mass.

The journey of the glacier can be seen twenty miles away. It is accompanied by a distinct roar which also can be heard from a considerable distance.

The glacier movement evidently is not related to the phenomenon of a heavy mud flow on the opposite side of the mountain recently. This flow is believed to have started from other ice deposits melting under many days of hot sunshine.

'Sub-Debs' Thrilled as Days of Debuts Draw Near

By BETTY ALDEN

THE buds of 1924-25 are hovering in the wings—an all-expectant band—waiting for the curtain to rise on the Winter season.

There's a good deal of a thrill about being a debutante. A whole glorious year, replete with theatre parties, dinners, teas and balls!

Already are the most fashionable modistes designing entrancing creations to adorn the blithe young things standing upon the threshold of their "first year."

Even though the leaves hardly have begun to fall far-sighted mothers are setting mid-Winter dates for their daughters' debuts.

A bud function taking place early in November is the tea which Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Apsey are giving on the fifth to present their daughter, Miss Suzanne Apsey. The Apseys have been spending the Summer at Swampscott.

December has two important presentation affairs on the cards.

On the 10th Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Ayer of Dartmouth street and Hamilton are giving a ball to mark the debut of their older daughter, Miss Theodora Ayer. The latter is a horsewoman of considerable skill, and despite her youth she has trotted several thoroughbreds from the ring with the coveted blue ribbons pinned to them.

On December 5 Mrs. Frederick S. Whitwell is playing hostess at a dance at the Chilton Club, this affair in honor of Mrs. Whitwell's debutante niece, Miss Olivia Howard, a California miss.

HOWEVER, the bud contingent isn't going to let festivities monopolize its attention.

Those fortunate enough to receive the Junior League membership this Fall will find that the league has planned a program for them in which various charity projects will play an important part.

Miss Mary Hall, a debbie of three Winters ago, who has been "out" put in charge of the league's "red stocking" work, will see to the buds elected to the league this Fall fill the many Christmas stockings to be given out.

Then there are a hundred and one other tasks which Miss Debutante must fulfill. In fact, when the league takes in its new members each Fall the latter are known only as "provisional" members until they prove themselves worthy of permanent membership in the league.

Miss Sarah Winslow is this year's leader of "leaguers," Miss Elinor Sutton is the vice-president, Mrs. Charles Cheney the treasurer, and Miss Madeline Converse the secretary.

The league's new quarters at No. 37 Commonwealth avenue, are now completed and since Saturday the usual daily lunches have been served there.

SHE'S A BUD OF AUTUMN

Among the debutantes of 1924-5 will be Miss Suzanne Apsey, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Apsey, are giving a tea for her November 5.

300 GUESTS IN PARADE WITH HUB CHAMBER

Visitors from Harrisburg, Pa., Entertained In Boston Today

Three hundred men representing the Chamber of Commerce of Harrisburg, Pa., arrive in Boston today.

They come to see what New England has to offer in the way of civic achievement. Arriving at the South Station by special train at 11:30, the party was to be met by the Boston Chamber, parade to the Copley-Plaza, have lunch, take sightseeing buses and look over metropolitan Boston. Leaving at 4:10 they go to Newport, have dinner there and take the Fall River Line to New York.

Although an unusually progressive capital city that has developed its parks, streets and civic needs, the Harrisburgers believe they can profit by seeing what other cities have done and this trip covers that desire.

They have visited Reading and Allentown in their own State and New York, Albany, Springfield, Worcester, Providence and Attleboro and Newport.

Coming in advance of New England Week, local chambers feel this is a splendid opportunity to show what cities here have to offer.

BOLIVIA HAS ACCEPTED ARGENTINE MEDIATION

Buenos Aires, Sept. 11.—Argentina's mediation in settlement of the long-standing dispute between Paraguay and Bolivia regarding definite determination of the frontier between the two countries is reported to have been accepted by President Saavedra of Bolivia, according to a dispatch to La Nacion from La Paz.

The question, which had been left in status quo in accordance with an agreement signed by the two countries, was again brought into prominence recently in connection with reported incursions of Bolivian armed forces into what the Paraguayans hold to be Paraguayan territory.

LA FOLLETTE TO SETTLE EXTENT OF CAMPAIGN

Washington, Sept. 11.—A decision as to the extent Senator La Follette, Independent Presidential candidate, will stump the country before election day will not be reached until after he opens his campaign with a speech in New York City next week.

Various engagements which would take the candidate into nearly every section are under consideration but thus far he and his managers have not determined upon any routings and it was indicated today that the campaign would be permitted to progress a bit further before a definite speech-making schedule is laid out.

WOMEN'S PEACE LEAGUE OATH CALLED "SLACKER'S"

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 11.—The twenty-fifth annual national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars went on record today condemning pacifism and demanding an adequate military and naval defense policy. It headed the oath exacted by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom as a "slacker's oath" and called for the wiping out of "this evil."

Close watch on the fifth regional officers of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau to see that they function properly and establishment of a veterans' committee in the Senate similar to the one recently established in the House were recommended.

Autoist, Who Crashed Milk Truck and Fled, Is Caught

John Curnin, twenty-six years old, of No. 13 Congress avenue, Chelsea, was driving an automobile along Shurtleff street, Chelsea, early today, when he was startled to life by a crash. A torrent of cold fluid enveloped him, and he saw he had struck a milk wagon and ruined fifteen cases of perfectly good milk.

Curnin stopped not for argument, but put spurs to his machine and disappeared.

Patrolman "Dan" Sullivan, who witnessed the occurrence, commandeered another car and gave chase. He caught Curnin in the rear of his home on Congress avenue and arrested him on charges of going away after an accident without revealing his identity and with having no license or registration.

U. S. TO SEIZE REDMOND'S ASSETS

Uncle Sam is out to seize the pittance that is left from the $12,000,000 failure of the firm of G. F. Redmond & Co., Inc., and the thousands of persons swindled by the firm are likely to lose what little they hoped to recoup from the wreckage.

The internal revenue department has discovered that the firm, while doing a gigantic business in stocks and bonds, failed to pay sufficient income tax and a bill for more than a quarter of a million dollars is claimed to be due.

The Federal government claims that for the years 1919 and 1920 the defunct firm owes the government $226,765. A claim for this amount has been filed in the Federal bankruptcy court by Internal Revenue Collector Malcolm E. Nichols.

When the Redmond firm crashed and the court appointed three receivers, they managed to retrieve something over $200,000 from the ruins. An effort was made to recover $3,000,000 which the trustees claimed was concealed by members of the house, but this sum was never brought to light.

The receivers appointed by the court were Attorney B. A. Brickley, Attorney J. Weston Allen and Attorney Charles P. Curtis, Jr. Thousands of New Englanders filed claims with the receivers for sums ranging anywhere from a few dollars to many thousands of dollars.

No disbursement of the funds garnered from the wreckage by the receivers ever was made, and the latest action of the revenue department is almost certain to preclude the possibility of the swindled persons ever receiving a cent.

The claim of the revenue department is what is known as a "preferred claim" under the law.

The following excerpt from the Federal law is the one upon which the government bases its claim of priority:

"Every executor, administrator and assignee who pays any debt due by the person or estate for which he acts before he satisfies the debt of the United States shall become answerable in his own person and estate for the debts due the United States."

BOY WILL GET WELL IF HE SEES MISSING DAD

Roxbury Father Goes to Buy Some Cigarettes and Disappears

Three-year-old "Jackie" McStravick of No. 37 Marella sreet, Roxbury, is sick.

The only thing that will brighten him up, the doctors say, is a glimpse of his dad, John F. McStravick, who disappeared from his home over two weeks ago and has not been heard from since.

McStravick, a chauffeur for the Joseph P. Manning Co., had talked of going to Schenectady, N. Y., for a Boston concern, but officials of the firm declare no such man had been hired by them.

McStravick left his home two weeks ago Sunday ostensibly to buy cigarettes.

Young "Jackie" has recently returned from a long illness in the hospital but his convalescense has been delayed, according to physicians, by his pining for his father.

"For 'Jackie's' sake I wish my husband would return and see him," says the deserted wife.

MORGAN RENEWS FRENCH CREDIT FOR $100,000,000

Paris, Sept. 12 (AP).—The $100,000,000 credit extended by J. P. Morgan & Co. to the Bank of France six months ago has been renewed for another six months upon conditions similar to the preceding credit. The renewal came after negotiations between Thomas W. Lamont, representing the American banking firm, and Georges Rubineau, governor of the Bank of France.

KLAN'S FRIENDS RUN STRONG IN MICHIGAN

Runners-Up In Nearly All Important Contests Have the Hooded Order Backing

Detroit, Sept. 11 (A.P.).—The unexpectedly strong runs made at Tuesday's primary by candidates endorsed by the Ku Klux Klan today engaged the interest of political leaders.

In the Senatorial contest, in which Senator Couzens defeated Fedejo Judge Tuttle, the Klan did not figure conspicuously, the campaign having been waged largely on the Michigan's Senator's "Republicanism" and on his reputed wet sympathies.

It was in the gubernatorial race that the Klan vote was most apparent. Governor Grosebeck, seeking a third term, was renominated by the Republicans with a plurality that exceeded 200,000 today, with 250 precincts missing.

James Hamilton, of Detroit, initiator of the movement to have an anti-parochial school amendment made to the State constitution, finished as runner-up to the Governor.

He ran with Klan endorsement and led several well known Michigan political figures, including W. W. Potter, chairman of the State Public Utilities Commission, Charles R. Sligh, Grand Rapids furniture man, and Herbert F. Baker, former State senator.

Rev. Frederick Perry, who was also known as a "Klan candidate" had more votes than Potter or Thomas Read, incumbent lieutenant governor.

Klan strength was given emphasis in the Detroit mayoralty primary through the showing of Charles Bowles, a Klan endorsee, who ran only about 2,500 votes behind Joseph Martin, former acting mayor.

Martin and John W. Smith, former postmaster, who polled about 13,000 more votes than Martin, will be the run-off candidates in November.

GIVES 472-ACRE FARM FOR VETERANS' HOME

Atlantic City, Sept. 11.—A gift of land to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the Grand River Stock Farms at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, to be used as a national home for members of the V. F. W., and their dependents has been made by Corey J. Spencer, member of Caldwell-Clark Post, 873, Jackson, Mich., a delegate to the national convention now in session here. Over 472 acres of land and building valued at $100,000 are included in the offer.

ZR-3 IS PUT THROUGH PACES ON TRIAL TRIP

Constance, Baden, Sept. 11. (A.P.)—The dirigible airship ZR-3, built by Germany for the United States, took the air from Friedrichshafen this morning on a trial flight and at 10:25 o'clock was over the town of Constance being put through maneuvres. The giant airship was kept jockeying about in this vicinity for nearly half an hour, flying in great circles as the experts on board apparently tried out her elevation gears, testing her climbing ability.

AGED HAVERHILL MAN ATTEMPTS TO END LIFE

Haverhill, Sept. 11.—James Cushman, seventy years old, is in a serious condition at the Gale Hospital today as a result of attempted suicide by gas at a rooming house at No. 111 Emerson street. He was found unconscious by M. W. Mahoney, owner of the house. Mahoney said Cushman had been expecting money from California, and had frequently said he was once wealthy, but now penniless.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 11 (A.P.).—The giant dirigible ZR-3, built at the Zeppelin works for the United States Navy, started on its third flight of the trial series today with the late Count Zeppelin's daughter, Countess Hella Von Brandenstein-Zeppelin, as the star passenger. She was accompanied by her son and two daughters.

FASTEST RUM SHIP SEIZED; 2 DROWN

85-Foot Steel Yacht Sagetta and $50,000 in Booze Taken in Long Chase

New York, Sept. 11—Two men are believed to have been drowned, two others were captured, and a cargo of Scotch whiskey valued at 150,000 was seized today when marine police captured the 85-foot steel yacht Sagitta, the fastest rum runner on the Atlantic coast.

The vessel was captured after a chase that lasted several hours, during which three police boats fired on it repeatedly, cornered it in a channel entrance off Comminipaw, N. J., and deliberately rammed the rum runner.

When the vessels met two of the rum runner's crew jumped overboard and although Sergeant Thomas Hayden dived overboard after them they were not seen again. It is thought they were either drowned or escaped by swimming to shore such way under water.

The Sagitta made two attempts to ram the police boat before it was finally captured.

Admits Guilt, Freed

John J. Fleming pleaded guilty today in the Suffolk County Superior Criminal Court to larceny by forging and uttering checks on the State Street Trust Company. Judge Raymond allowed him to go on probation.

TWO SOLOISTS FOR NEW SYMPHONY SEASON

MARGARET MATZENAUER

Wagnerian mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company and, in inset, Albert Spalding, distinguished American violinist, who are among artists chosen by Serge Koussevitzky, the new Russian conductor of the Symphony Orchestra.

NOTABLE LIST OF SYMPHONY SOLOISTS

New Director Has Chosen Several Composers Among Artists

The list of soloists later to be announced for the coming regular series of Boston Symphony concerts has been chosen with a special reason by Serge Koussevitzky, the new Russian conductor of the orchestra.

In a word, the concerts are to remain symphony concerts. Each of the solo artists is to appear in a score of special interest and full symphonic and pianists as well and will appear in their own music.

These are Igor Stravinsky, the striking composer of the "Rites of Spring" heard here last year, who is to come to America for the first time. There will also be Serge Prokofieff, composer of the opera "The Love for the Three Oranges," produced by the Chicago Opera Company. Prokofieff is often called the most important of the younger generation of Russian composers. Serge Rachmaninoff, whose prominence as a pianist is by no means overshadowed by his brilliant original scores, will also appear in his second piano concerto.

Other soloists will be Margaret Matzenauer, the Wagnerian mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company; Albert Spalding, the distinguished American violinist; Alfred Cortot, the brilliant French pianist, and Guy Maier and Lee Pattison, the pair of virtuosi who have been much admired in music for two pianos. Each of these has appeared in former seasons as soloists with this orchestra.

Naturally, the principal interest in the coming symphony season is in Koussevitzky, the new conductor of the orchestra. This European celebrity is coming to America for the first time. He will arive this Saturday and immediately begin his preparations for the opening of the Symphony season in Symphony Hall on October 10.

TO TEST RAIL BOARD'S POWER OVER WITNESSES

Chicago, Sept. 11.—A court test to interpret the right of the Railroad Labor Board to compel unwilling witnesses to testify under the transportation act is the next step, according to board officials, in the controversy over wages and rules between the Western railway managers and the engine service brotherhoods. Representatives of the engineers and firemen again today refused to appear on subpoenas issued by the board.

FIRE IN AUTO IMPERILS WIFE OF EX-MAYOR

Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald, wife of Boston's former mayor, her daughter, Actess, and son Fred narrowly escaped injury when the touring car in which they were returning from the White Mountains caught fire from an over-heated motor on Wales avenue, Dorchester.

Just as the occupants alighted to enter their home, flames burst from the radiator, enveloped the machine and set the gasoline tank ablaze.

Fred Fitzgerald fought the flames until the arrival of the fire department on a "still" alarm. The damage was slight.

CAMPAIGN CARAVAN TOURS NEW YORK STATE

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 11—The Coolidge-Dawes caravan, which rested in this city last night on its way west from Plymouth, Vt., home of President Coolidge, was expected to take the road here this morning bound for Schenectady, Amsterdam, Utica and western New York. United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and others who spoke at a Republican rally here last night after the Caravan's arrival, were to accompany the party.

C. F. HOVEY COMPANY for 83 years noted for silks of quality tell how to care for fine fabrics

As long ago as when grandmother was a girl, silk worn by the ladies of New England came from Hovey's. The same Hovey's where you buy your exquisite fabrics today.

For 83 years, in homes all over New England, the name of Hovey has been associated with merchandise of the highest quality.

Knowing that fine fabrics need special care, this well-known firm set about finding the best way to launder silks for dresses, blouses, and lingerie—soft woolens, too. This search convinced them that no matter how delicate the material, if water alone won't injure it, it can be successfully washed with Lux.

Silk will crack and yellow, and its color fade, if it is improperly laundered. Woolen goods, too, must be washed with the greatest care to avoid shrinking.

Lux will not harm the most delicate texture, nor fade colors that plain water alone will not injure.

HUGGER STILL AT LARGE IN PROVIDENCE

Police Unable to Find Assailant Who Scared Three Women

Providence, Sept. 11.—Police are still searching the Elmwood section of the city for a young man wearing glasses, whom they believe attacked three women in that section.

Mrs. Mary Irene Montville, one of the three, was so badly affected by the attack that she lost the power of speech and is under the care of a physician.

Mrs. Addie Beetchelow, No. 46 Woodmont street, and her daughter, Ida, nineteen, were set upon by the man when they were about to enter the front door of their home. The man, they said, followed them after they left the home of a friend on Adelaide avenue.

The women escaped inside the house, locking the door, and after several minutes the man hurried away down the street.

U. S. WILL ADD TO AVIATION LAURELS

Army Plans for New "Relay" Hop as the Navy Maps Cruises for ZR-3

Washington, Sept. 10 (I.N.S.).—Plans are being made for two more ambitious attempts by army fliers to add new laurels to America's aviation crown.

A hop to Hawaii from San Francisco and an extended voyage to South America by way of Panama or the West Indies may be attempted in the near future.

Army and navy are both polishing their spurs for ventures which will greatly add to the renown of the achievement of belting the globe.

MANY SEEK CHANCE.

Dozens of army aviators who volunteered for the world flight are regarded just as competent for such an expedition, and their voices are being raised again. Undoubtedly, in the opinion of officials, they will be given a chance.

The new flight will be in the nature of a relay, with perhaps six teen planes stationed and as many crews at supply depots at convenient points on the earth's surface. This will relieve machines and men of a great part of the strain that has been borne by the members of the army globe-girdling expedition. It is believed Patrick will authorize the new venture for next Spring. Already several flights are being planned by other nations.

NAVY'S BIG TRIUMPH.

The navy's big triumph will come, perhaps in a fortnight, when the ZR-3 crosses the ocean from Germany. Then will follow enough cruising with the fleet to satisfy a demand for "battleship navy" officers that the two big airships should operate with vessels afloat. It is expected that exploratory expeditions soon will be undertaken to make good the pledge of the navy that unknown parts of the world shall be opened up to civilization.

CANADA MOVES TO AID U. S. ON IMMIGRATION

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 11.—Canada took what was considered the first step toward making good its pledges to the United States that all possible precautions would be taken at Dominion ports to prevent emigration to the United States through Canada. J. A. Robb, minister of immigration, ruled that Jewish refugees from Russia seeking entry into Canada will be subject to the same restrictions as apply to all other immigrants, namely, that they must qualify as agricultural workers and give reasonable assurance that they intend to remain in the rural districts.

CAST MADE OF LARGEST BIRD EVER TRACED

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 12 (A.P.)—A plaster cast reproduction of the largest bird ever known to have existed, has been unveiled at the Los Angeles museum. Its scientific title is teratornis merriami, the name honoring Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institute, who was instrumental in its discovery at the Rancho La Brea pits near here. From these pits have come many fossil bones of birds and beasts of the pleistocene period. Authorities on ornithology place the age of the bones of this bird at 25,000 years.

The teratornis' nearest living relative is the California condor, but few of these remain today.

Judge Halts Court Until Building Is Heated

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Cold weather temporarily halted the session of city court, criminal branch, when Judge Kohlmetz refused to mount the bench until the building was heated.

The judge, who had paced his court clad in an overcoat, with the temperature hovering in the fifties, also took pity on the prisoners shivering in their cells. He had a supply of blankets sent them until the firemen raised enough steam to insure warmth.

WIFE PLEADS FOR MATE WHO BEAT HER

Girl-Mother Shows Cuts and Bruises—Police Stop Fight in Home

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 11. — It was when the babies began to ask about daddy that young Mrs. Chisolm felt her anger slipping away and thought she could forget everything that had been done to her, she said, if her husband would only be good in the future.

She told the story of the two months' home to police when she appeared at headquarters to ask that something be done for the release of her husband, Bill Chisolm, a young merchant. Chisolm was arrested for wife-beating.

Call officers responding to a report of trouble found Chisolm beating his wife with a heavy iron bar, according to their statement of the affair. Chisolm is only twenty and his wife a little younger.

Taken to police headquarters, Chisolm was ordered held without bond. The young wife went down there with her story of the two children, and by her entreaties obtained the promise of police officials that they would release her husband on bond of $100 pending the hearing at 430 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

KINGSTON MAN, 92, GOING TO LEGISLATURE

Kingston, Sept. 11.—When the next General Court convenes on Beacon Hill, the oldest member—in point of years—will be Walter H. Faunce of this town, who has won the nomination in the Seventh Plymouth District. Mr. Faunce is ninety-two years young, has a keen retentive mind, and an enviable political record.

Walter H. Faunce

In 1889 he was elected to the House of Representatives and served on the committee on insurance. Then he was elected a member of the Plymouth County Commissioners and retired five years ago.

For twenty-five years he was a member of the school board and has served as assessor, selectman and chairman of the overseers of the poor.

WATERY GRAVE YIELDS 'DEAD' FISHERMEN

Pair Mourned as Lost by a Newfoundland Town

Land in Boston

Two fishermen came back from Davy Jones' locker today.

Two fishermen, for whom memorial services were held last Sunday in the little Newfoundland town of Grand Bank, arrived in Boston today aboard the liner Davisonian, alive and happy.

Three lucky breaks kept them from the watery graves their friends and family believed them in.

John Tibo, forty-two years old, and Dennis Drake, forty-one years old, the two "dead" men, while tending trawls in a dory off the Queco Banks, were lost from their mother ship, the Winifred Lee, in a dense fog.

THREE LUCKY BREAKS.

With only a small bottle of water and a few biscuits they waited three days for the fog to lift, and when it did, they found themselves alone with nothing in sight.

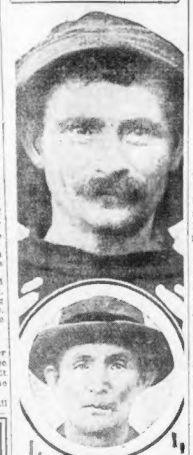
Guided by the sun, they rowed all day, and that night caught sight of the blinking lights of the Portuguese fishing schooner Senhora DuGul. This was the first lucky break.

The second bit of luck came when they caught the schooner just as she was raising sail to set out for the Grand Banks.

The third lucky break appeared the following day when the terrific hurricane which lashed the Atlantic coast broke, they had been rescued. In their open dory they would not have lasted an hour.

The Davisonian, in answer to a signal, took the pair off the fishing schooner and brought them in. Captain J. Tricky furnished them with clothing, and today they were turned over to the British consul, who will ship them back to Newfoundland.

Back From 'Dead'



THEY WERE RESCUED

RADIO TO BOOST NEW ENGLAND TO NATION

Leading "Nebs" To Be Heard Each Night; Special Features at Mechanics Bldg.

The radio world will next week know New England.

This area of the country will be boosted to the skies via radio all next week, the radio committee of New England Week organization having announced five big programs.

The first of these will be next Monday night during the course of a New England Week convention at Mechanics Building. All New England Governors will address this gathering by radio, speaking from their respective home cities.

Dr. Julius Klein of Washington, director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce will speak at the hall in person and the noted Shriners band of which Louis Harlow is director, will play. All candidates for Governor of Massachusetts will speak and a New England song will be sung for the first time.

FROM ALL BIG STATIONS.

With the aid of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, and the co-operation of the broadcasting stations WBZ of Springfield, WTBR of Worcester, WNAC of Boston and WJAR of Providence, this meeting on Monday evening will be broadcast over a very wide area.

Free use of Mechanics building is given by the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, which also installed public address and broadcasting equipment.

On Wednesday evening, another big audience will gather at Mechanics building for "Railroad Night." This program will be in charge of Robert Newcomb, assistant to the president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. A. P. Russell, vice-president of the New Haven, will be the principal speaker.

BIG NIGHT FOR ROTARIANS.

E. S. Jonas of the travel department of the Boston & Maine will represent that system, and there will also be a speaker from the Boston & Albany road. There will be a band and other entertainment features.

On Thursday night, September 18, a big program will be put on under direction of the Boston Rotary Club. John Adams, vice-president of the International Rotary Organization, will be the principal speaker. There will also be speeches by Elmer Hubbard, district governor for Massachusetts and Rhode Island, Herb Libby, district governor for Maine and New Hampshire, and Al Lavery, district governor for Connecticut and Vermont, all of the Rotary organizations. There will be a fine concert program.

On Tuesday night, September 16, and Saturday night, September 20, a playlet developed by Miss Lotta Clark of Boston University will be put on the air from station WNAC. Miss Clark is head of the activities of the Camp Fire Girls.

Tickets for the New Convention Night, next Monday, can be obtained generally at department stores and at many music stores.

MacMILLAN'S SHIP ON WAY TO MAINE

Explorer Brings Many Specimens After 15 Months in Polar Regions

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 11.—The auxiliary schooner Bowdoin of the MacMillan Arctic expedition, which left Wiscasset, Me., June 23, 1923, arrived at Battle Harbor, Labrador. All members of the party were reported well. The Bowdoin will sail Friday for Wiscasset.

Captain Donald B. MacMillan, head of the expedition, said upon arrival here that the expedition was entirely satisfactory. The vessel carries a large collection of objects of scientific interest.

It was about fifteen months ago that the Bowdoin, bearing the explorer and his six associates, set sail on the voyage which was to carry them more than 2,100 miles to northern Greeland. The trip was the explorer's tenth to the polar regions in fifteen years.

The schooner, named after Bowdoin College, MacMillan's alma mater, was said by the explorer to be the best scientifically equipped vessel ever taken into the arctic. Supplies were carried to make possible a two-year stay should ice conditions prevent a return this September.

The MacMillan party included Donald H. Mix of Bristol, Ct., an expert radio operator, sent by the American Radio Relay League, composed of 15,000 boy operators in this country; W. F. Lewis of East Lynn, Mass., a cook, and John Jaynes, Somerville, Mass. engineer.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R. KEYMEN TO STRIKE

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 11.—The general committee of Division No. 17, Order of Railroad Telegraphers, authorized E. J. Manion of St. Louis, president of the Order, to call a strike of 4,000 telegraphers employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad, if other means failed to bring about a settlement of a wage controversy.

BREWSTER IS 36,672 VOTES AHEAD IN MAINE

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—Unofficial revised returns of Monday's election for United States Senator and Governor by counties, with only two missing places, which cast 30 votes four years ago, were as follows:

Fernald, Republican, 149,142; Redman, Democrat, 97,502; Brewster, Republican, 145,166; Pattangall, Democrat, 108,436.

DAVIS GAINING IN WEST, SAYS CHAIRMAN SHAVER

New York, Sept. 11.—Chairman Shaver of the Democratic National Committee, before leaving for Washington said that the Western States are turning from La Follette to Davis, as they have learned during the last three years that the La Follette group, no matter how anxious to give help, cannot give it, because they cannot get the control of government agencies with which to function.

SIX MILLION VOTES ARE PLEDGED TO LA FOLLETTE

Washington, Sept. 11.—That Republican and Democratic ranks will lose 6,000,000 voters of German descent to the Independent Progressive party was the declaration of a committee of the Steuben Society calling on Senator La Follette at the Capitol.

The committee, headed by William Meuer, was sent to pledge the unanimous endorsement of the society by its convention which met at Detroit last week.

BOSTON MILLS ACCUSED OF UNFAIR METHODS

Washington, Sept. 11.—The Federal Trade Commission complained against the Tremont and Suffolk mills of Boston, and Catlin & Co., of New York, on the charge of unfair methods of competition in misbranding blankets.

The complaint alleges that the respondents have sold and are still selling cotton blankets containing no wool whatsoever, which they have labelled "wool finish."

WORLD FLIERS TO AVOID HIGH ALTITUDES

Washington, Sept. 11—With all three planes of the army world flight squadron now at Selfridge Field, the fliers settled down today for another two days' layover in the nation's capital under a revised schedule which will keep them here for participation in the Defence Day test Friday.

In contrast to the heralded arrival of the planes of the two companion pilots here Tuesday, Lieutenant E. K. Nelson, the company's dirigible down in his plane, New Orleans. He flew it from Halesburg, near Baltimore, where he was forced down in the flight from New York, without even many of the service men at the field knowing he was on the way.

Going out from here to inspect work on the plane he found it ship-shape after the installation of a new motor.

Shortly before his arrival the War Department announced that at the request of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, flight commander, the route and stops originally laid out for the flyers had been changed to avoid the high altitudes encountered along the Rocky mountains. Instead of taking the southern route, as originally planned, the department announced an intermediate stop at Seattle, and they will take the northern route over Minneapolis, Chicago and Detroit, thence to Washington.

The department explained in an announcement that going to the Seattle stop the planes have been ordered having "considerable reserve gas supply," it would be unwise for them to attempt to fly at an altitude of over 6,500 feet a cause of construction of the craft and the motors. However, it was said, it would be safe to thus hop.

The flyers are now scheduled to leave Selfridge Field Saturday morning, arriving at Seattle Monday.

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Dover, Del.—"I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine as it has done so much good to me. I had cramps and faint spells and very bad pains. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store on my way home and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I have been taking it ever since, and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to lie in bed all the time, and when I started to brush up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at night and get up at seven still tired. Now I can work all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory. I have told a good many of my friends, and I have had three come to me and tell me they wouldn't do without the Vegetable Compound." Mrs SAMUEL MURPHY, 719 Cecil St., Dover, Delaware.

MRS. ELLIS shoved her glasses to her forehead, then back again hastily. She gave Chick a sharp, challenging look, a gleam in the fighting eyes. "That wasn't easy to do, Miss Bryce."

BOBBIE AND HIS PA

By William F. Kirk

THARE was a convenshun in our town last week, the American Leelin boys was here & they had a fine time. I was one of the boy scouts & our job was to show them the town but they was too fast for us, all we cud do was to tag after them & try to catch them. I know now why they was too fast for the Kiser and his trupes, zee. I was tired when they was gone.

Those are a fine lot of yung men, sed Pa.

Our ladys club dident think so, sed Ma, they were very ruff in sum of there antiks, Ma sed.

Boys will be boys, sed Pa.

For hevings sake, deer, sed Ma, do not use that silly frase so often. Every time a groan up man makes a fool of hisself, sed Ma, his friends just laff & say Boys will be boys. Those soljers are groan up men, they are not boys, sed Ma.

Men are always boys, deer, sed Pa. Jest large boys looking for sum play & fun.

You dount say so, sed Ma kind of sneering. You are not in need of much sympathy & luv, are you, that you need to go around looking for it, sed Ma.

I dident seem looking for it exept at hoam, sed Pa kind of quick, but all men likes to have there wives unnerstand them & pet them when things go rong at the offis, etc., sed Pa.

But you never tell me wen things go rong at the offis, sed Ma. You never give me a chanst to pet you & feel sorry for you, sed Ma.

Well, of course I am a X-cepshunal gest, sed Pa, things seldom ever go rong with me, sed Pa. But lots of poor geezers have trubbel & cross to bare, and Pa & thare wifes gives them the ear wen they shud feel sorry for them, sed Pa. That is what fills the dy-vorce corts, sed Pa.

No, sed Ma, other wimmen feel sorry for them, that is what fills the dy-vorce cort, sed Ma.

We will not argew in the presents of our little son, sed Pa.

You know it is the treatis I meek, sed Ma.

We will not discuss it, sed Pa.

Of course we will not, sed Ma, you are floored & you know it, sed Ma. That is why you wud like to change the subjeck.

Then Pa looked up at the ceeling kind of sad & sed Oh, what did I ever do that I was so pertikel'ly sed he wanted to be stuck by Ame, wife for which I have did so much for, sed Pa.

Wen Ma laffed & I laffed too, & Pa looked sharp at me & sed What are you snickering at, Bobbie?

I was jest thinking of a good look I cud get, sed I. Two frends was talking & one of them sed, War is a terrible thing, ain't it, Pat? & Pat sed Yes, there is but one thing worse & that is no war at all.

I will now choose.

MEDBURY SAYS—

By John P. Medbury.

EVERY large home should have at least two guest rooms where friends who stay over the week end with you can be made as uncomfortable as possible.

A BOOK of etiquette should be placed on each bureau so that your friends will know the proper thing to say when they're leaving.

THE average guest knows how to leave, but a lot of them don't know when to.

SOME of them think they're welcome as long as you don't send for a policeman to have them put out.

WHEN a woman goes visiting one should help with the dishes every day until they're all broken.

OF course, no divorce guests would break the dishes on purpose to get out of washing them.

THERE are several ways of dropping china so as to make it look accidental.

THIS requires lots of practice and it's too expensive to learn at home.

BUT you can require the knack very rapidly if you go visiting much.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. F. X. Mahoney,
Boston Health Commissioner.

IT is by leisure alone, properly apportioned to work, that we can realize our full efficiency.

The muscle worker who works eight hours a day does more work and better work than he who works ten hours a day.

Dr. Mahoney

And by the same token, the professional man, the business man, the brainworker who works ten months a year does more work and better work than he who works twelve months a year.

But remember, that hurry is labor intensified. By hurry you exhaust your energy with a rapidity that is in proportion to your speed.

What you do in a hurry generally is less well done than that which you do at your normal pace. That is because your patterns—which is what the psychologists call the nerve paths of habitual motion—have been developed to a certain pace or rhythm. If you exceed that pace you confuse the whole mechanism, and the resulting motion is less precise.

For these and many other reasons, don't you admit the wisdom of eternal push and drive.

Don't hurry!

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Am troubled with pimples about head and then dey go and the scabs fall off. Mildred T. R.

I think the best thing for you to do would be to go to the outdoor clinic at the Massachusetts General Hospital. Any physician connected with these hospitals can tell you. I would recommend that you go to the outdoor clinic at 8 o'clock in the morning at the Massachusetts General Hospital. The City Hospital also have clinics for skin diseases. Perhaps a physician's examination is called a symptom of some other trouble.

I suffer from nose bleeds. Would it help me to have my tonsils taken out? A. F.

I would not advise you about an operation for tonsils until after a consultation of your friends. Would suggest that you call at the outdoor clinic of the Boston City Hospital or the Massachusetts General Hospital and let a doctor decide on advisability of not your tonsils are causing your nose bleeds.

FINANCE

—By B. C. Forbes—

"The United States has three automobiles for every four families in the entire country."

That statement, often dangled before the eyes of Europeans, sends many a cross one there hurrying to get passport and passage for this country. Ownership of an automobile spells the height of luxury to Europeans.

Do you know that there are only 250,000 automobiles in England?

The United States has 19,000,000 cars.

The British haven't yet attained America's skill in turning out good, cheap cars by the thousand. The cheapest car exhibited at the last motor show there cost $875. Compared with the lowest-priced American cars, the lowest priced British see abroad look like toys. The first few times you see them you wonder how on earth they are not blown off the road when a stiff wind blows.

It is not astonishing, therefore, that Henry Ford plans to establish a large factory outside of London, with a capacity for producing 500 cars a day. Britain has no such plant at present. Over there they have to depend the art of quantity production. They go in for variety. For example, I chose a Daimler car to do my touring and I was told I had the same company turns out 57 different models.

* * *

Whenever you reach the slightest hill you have to change gears. The Daimler limousine had less horsepower than one of our Chevrolets or Fords. The reason is that cars are taxed almost $5 per horsepower. Therefore, the British build cars with as few as eight horsepower, or with about one-third of our smallest cars.

This low horsepower has another distinct advantage. These cars can go nearly twice as far as ours on one gallon of gasoline, and since gasoline there costs 40 to 50 cents a gallon, this is an important consideration.

* * *

Foreigners like American cars because they are such wonderful hill-climbers as contrasted with the low-power European machines. And now that the labor government has thrown away with the high import duty on foreign cars, it is believed that American manufacturers, particularly of low-priced cars, will be able to do a great deal more business there. Of course, the existing system of taxation—so much per horsepower—works against American cars with their high power, but efforts are being made to have this drawback removed.

Europeans love to "motor." Motor buses, such as you see over here, have sprung up with tremendous rapidity during the last two or three years. Thousands and thousands of people then patronize them, particularly on Saturday afternoons and Sundays, solely for the joy they derive from riding.

Outside of large cities, you meet extremely few private passenger cars. You meet relatively more motor trucks. Apparently this system of transportation has been found economical.

Generally speaking, employes, no matter how high their salaries, do not own an automobile. A passenger car is regarded as appropriate for only the employing classes.

I visited one of the very important publishing enterprises in Britain, a concern issuing several daily and weekly newspapers as well as a string of periodicals, and I discovered that not one executive, apart from the owner, had an automobile. I asked one of the leading executives if it could be possible that he could not afford to have a car. "I suppose I could afford one, but I would rather spend the money in putting all my children through the university," he answered.

I found this attitude quite common—that families of all grades set great store on getting for their children the finest education in the land, and that costly pleasures are cheerfully denied.

The principal European countries have excellent roads, and as few cars are encountered on the highways, motoring there is a great pleasure.

I believe, however, that the number of cars in Europe will increase enormously as taxation becomes less burden some and prosperity revives. After all, it is tremendously useful and comfortable to have your own personal transportation.

NATION'S BANK MEN TO MEET THIS MONTH

By FRANK H. MELOON,

Financial Editor

The last outstanding spokesmen for all sides of America's business problems will be heard by the nation's bankers at the coming annual convention of the American Bankers' Association at Chicago.

The meeting will be the fiftieth annual convention of the association and will be held September 29 to October 1.

Walter W. Head, president of the association, will open the general session with an address on the part of the banker in the nation's business. Another speaker will be E. T. Meredith, head of the Meredith farm publications of Des Moines, Iowa, and former secretary of agriculture, on the "Relation of Agriculture to Other Business."

He will be followed by Dwight W. Morrow, partner of Morgan & Co. Especial interest attaches to what Mr. Morrow may have to say in view of his recent discussion of the way in which foreign loans are handled, refuting popular notions that their success depended upon the dictation of a few huge international banking houses and showing that they acquired the confidence of a vast number of small investors.

On the second day the first speaker of the general session will be Arthur Reynolds, president of the Continental & Commercial National Bank of Chicago, on the subject "Turning in With Success." He will be followed by C. H. Markham of Chicago, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, who will speak on "The Railroads as Factors in Building." The third speaker will be John E. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, on "Making Selling Secure." Four other major phases of current problems will be taken up at the third general session. James C. Dunn of Brooklyn, N. Y., justice of the Supreme Court of New York, will speak on "The Responsibilities of Citizenship." The final speaker will be Senator George Wharton Pepper of Philadelphia on "Banks and the Government."

The first week of September shows little change from the automobile producing schedules followed during August.

There may come a speeding up later in the month, but that will depend solely upon the development of retail demand. However, bright prospects for Fall business appear in sections of the country where the crop interest has been at a low ebb for months, producers will not increase operations until definite assurances is given that sales are forthcoming made by automotive industries will say this week.

This hesitancy will continue to a great extent during the remaining months of the year, the stepping up of manufacturing schedules following very closely the strengthening of the retail sales curve. Present buying is going along on a fairly good level for the season but it is not exceptional in its volume.

Dealers' stocks, except in a few instances, are virtually depleted of old models, where new models have been brought out to supplant the old and the supply of cars is reported in other cases where there has been no change in design. The trade is not only short of cars on hand as it feels justified in carrying.

CAMERON TAKES BULLISH VIEW ON WOOL INDUSTRY

View expressed in some quarters in financial district that passing of common dividend by American Woolen Co. forecasts a slump in that industry in this country is not shared by Frank H. Cameron, Jr., director of Department of Agriculture of Victoria, Australia, who said the world's markets were absorbing all the best grade of raw wool now being produced in this country.

"The general feeling in the trade in Australia," he said, "is that demand for high class wools is extending, that industry generally is very active, with expectation, of higher prices, which have been maintained at high averages for some time. My best information is that there is no tendency to cut either prices or wages in the trade."

STOCK OF MONEY IN U. S. SHOWS A DROP

Stock of money in the United States September 1 totaled $4,676,711,198, a decrease of $13,966,956 since August 1 last. Amount in circulation September 1 aggregated $4,773,878,272, against $4,865,187,288 August 1, and $4,777,906,811 September 1, 1923. Circulation per capita was $42.28, against $43.36 August 1, and $42.85 September 1, 1923. Gold coin and bullion totaled $4,331,160,497, an increase of $13,666,596 since August 1, 1924.

Gold certificate circulation was $4,870,866,629, against $801,380,819 July 1, 1924, the high since the treasury issued the revised statement in July, 1922.

BANGOR & AROOSTOOK AUGUST GROSS IS UP

August gross earnings of Bangor & Aroostook are understood to have been somewhat ahead of last year while expenses were less, with consequent improvement in net. Last year net operating income for the month was $59,766.

Indications are, however, that September will not prove as good as last year. The potato crop is later this year and digging did not begin until about the 10th of September. Last year there was a heavy movement of potatoes in September.

$500,000 MASSACHUSETTS NOV. 21 NOTES SOLD

Commonwealth of Massachusetts sold $500,000 notes due Nov. 21, 1924, to Salomon Bros. & Hutzler at 2.10 per cent, interest to follow. Other bidders were National Shawmut Bank 2.21 per cent; First National Bank 2.29 per cent, and Old Colony Trust Co., 2.55 per cent.

Pacific Extension Crippled St. Paul

BEFORE it built its Puget Sound extension, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul was one of the richest railroads in the Western world.

The extension, which was of 2,000 miles in length, was built at a cost of $200,000,000. It is very heavy cost per mile, owing to the many mountains that had to be crossed and the installation later of hydro-electric power on a part of the line.

It never has paid.

Railroad experts say the country has not grown up to the railroads. What they mean is that it does not as yet produce enough traffic to justify so many transportation systems.

William Rockefeller and J. Ogden Armour used to be the largest owners of St. Paul.

STEEL GIVES SURPRISE

Wall Street received one of the surprises of its life in the report of the increase in the Steel Corporation's orders of over 102,502 tons during August. Had this increase been reported prior to the recent statement of Judge Gary there would not have been quite such wonder, but in view of his remarks regarding the gain in shipments even the most sanguine of Steel dealers did not forecast a gain in unfilled orders.

Many are now talking of having practically reached the peak of the books but there was not one in the financial district who looked for anything better than a standoff just prior to the appointment of the increase. Forecasts of earnings to be reported for the current quarter will now be raised and good gain over the second period is quite likely.

GRANGER RAILS WEAKEN IN NEW YORK TRADING

In trading on the New York Stock Exchange today, weakness of the St. Paul issues eventually extended to the other grangers, Great Northern preferred dropping 2 points and Northern Pacific and Chicago Northwestern more than a point each.

Lackawanna, Delaware & Hudson and Seaboard Air Line preferred also yielded 1 to 1¼ points.

Heavy selling cropped out in the U. S. Rubber issues, each of which fell 1¼ points below their previous closing quotations.

The rest of the list held well during this selling and eventually headed upward again when buying for both accounts took place in a number of specialties. Baldwin, American Woolen, Coca Cola, U. S. Alcohol, Texas Gulf Iron Pipe, General Electric and American Ice were among the many issues marked up 1 to 3 points. Call money renewed at 2 per cent.

In Boston Stock Exchange transactions Island Creek Coal sold off more than 3 points, closing, after adding another point recession to its 4-point drop of Wednesday, rallied fractionally. Boston & Maine Class D, which sold down 2 points Wednesday, chipped 2 more.

B. & M. RESULTS FOR AUGUST BETTER

Likelihood is that Boston & Maine will report another substantial surplus after interest charges and rentals for August, larger probably than the deficit of $22,957 existing at the end of July and put the road in black figures for the eight months of the fiscal year.

The management is hopeful of a reasonably satisfactory showing for balance of 1924. If the road does that it will have in the first five months of this year as it did in the corresponding period of last year it would be able to show a surplus for 1924 of about $500,000, and the chances are it will do measurably better than this with any kind of business improvement.

Gross for August is estimated at $6,630,000, which is $145,000, or 14.7 per cent, less than in August last year but over $108,000 more than in July. Gross has been steadily running behind last year, although the decrease is less marked in the last two months. Net, however, is much larger than in 1923 owing to reduction in expenses.

A pick-up in local traffic is noted on the lines in Maine, and reports on its lines are showing greater improvement than is business reflected from connections. In four weeks of July, loadings averaged 12,444 cars per week; in four weeks in August, 13,142 per week, an increase of 5.6 per cent. Practically all the gain was in manufactures, miscellaneous and merchandise. Activity in ice and L. C. L. freight, denoting its territory.

DOG FANCIERS' ADVICE AND GOSSIP

CHOW PUPPY BROOD VALUED AT $3,000

ARISTOCRATS OF DOGDOM

Chow Trustworthy and Dependable; Is Neither Cross Nor Unfriendly

Of all one-man dogs, the Chow is more likely to attach himself to a few people than any other breed. He has true Asiatic soleness and standoffishness.

This backwardness in making friends has unfortunately earned for the Chow a general reputation of being cross and unfriendly. Such a reputation is not deserved.

The Chow is not cross nor ferocious, and we have never heard of a Chow attacking a human being without provocation, and, like his fellow breeds, he is trustworthy and dependable.

OBSCURE ORIGIN.

There is no variety of dog whose origin is more veiled in obscurity. There are many conflicting reports. But a few facts seem obvious. It is an Arctic breed and originated in that northern part of China bordering on the Siberian border, where the climate is cold and bleak.

To those familiar with malamutes and huskies, the Chow has all the outstanding characteristics of these true north-country breeds; their hardiness, their ability to care for themselves, their cunning, their somewhat unsociable and retiring disposition, and their dense coat.

The Chow stock which we have in this country did not come directly from China, but came from England, where the breed has been mightily improved in appearance. The name Chow-Chow is a pigeon-English for food.

A rich red is the preferred color, although the natural color of this breed runs to a straw. Blues are scarce and command an extra price. Blacks also are in demand, but a good black in a matured dog is a decided rarity, the coat having almost always a tendency to be a little rusty.

In Daniel's "Rural Sports," published in 1801, there is this information: "Mr. White describes a Chinese dog and bitch brought from Canton where they are fattened on rice, meal and other farinaceous foods for the table, as being about the size of a spaniel, color pale yellow, with coarse, bristling hairs on their backs, sharp erect ears and peaked, foxlike heads, their hindlegs with no bend at the hock or ham and so unusually straight as to cause an awkward gait in trotting.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Q.—I have a fine German Police dog which I must sell on account of the fact that my landlord does not allow dogs in his apartments. Possibly some reader of the Dog Column might want to take advantage of this opportunity to get a wonderful dog. I will sell him reasonably.

Answer—Undoubtedly some of our readers would like to purchase this animal. You will be notified if any write in.

Q.—Would you please send me information concerning Great Danes and Mastiffs, also price I would have to pay for a puppy?

Answer—English Mastiffs are becoming very scarce. Great Danes are still fairly abundant. You will receive by mail names and addresses of several breeders.

Q.—I have a Boston Terrier three weeks old. She is full of fleas. I am afraid to wash her for fear of catching cold. Kindly tell me what I can use that will not harm the pup. I wash the mother with flea soap, but it does no good, as they get back on her from the puppy?

Ans.—Mother and puppies must be thoroughly cleaned at the same time. Use a little flea powder and careful fine-combing. Be careful no powder goes in the puppy's eyes or nostrils. Give the mother a luke-warm bath with a good flea soap and a completely new bed. This should solve your problem.

We could give no any information as to where I could get a Scotch Terrier sometimes called Highland Terriers, and what would be a fair price to pay?

Ans.—You will be sent a list of breeders by mail. From thirty-five to one hundred dollars is an average range, depending on sex, appearance of the individual and blood lines.

PERSHING, RETIRING, DESERVES REWARD BY NATION

Every generation of Americans has had a war.

And every war, until the present one, has given us a President.

The Revolutionary War gave us President Washington. The war of 1812 gave us President Jackson. The Mexican war gave us President Zachary Taylor. The Civil War gave us President Grant. The Spanish-American War gave us President Roosevelt.

The World War of 1914-18, the greatest of all, has given us no President. Its real but unrewarded hero is General John J. Pershing, a plain, blunt soldier, who tomorrow will retire to private life.

General Pershing will retire almost six years from the September day when he launched that flaming attack at St. Mihiel and set the American army on a forward march which knew no halt until Germany laid down her arms. General Mangin, the French commander, estimated that it was possible for the American attacking force to reach its St. Mihiel objective in five days. General Pershing was there on the evening of the third day.

That September and October advance of the American Expeditionary Force was the logical and inevitable outcome of the preparation that Pershing had made. He had the military genius to conceive and build a four-track railway across France, that the American army might operate as a unit from an American-run base in France. He organized a division of supplies that functioned like clockwork, and, in spite of its magnitude, was wholly free from the scandals that disgraced the Spanish-American War. He built a sure foundation for the crowning military achievement on the west front.

It is impossible to compare the military achievement of Pershing and his predecessors in American military history, for there is no basis of comparison—his was so incomparably the greatest of all enterprises. The American troops commanded by Washington when Cornwallis surrendered were fewer than nine thousand in number. The total number of northern troops in all the Civil War, under the successive commands of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, was only two million. There were fewer than two hundred thousand American troops engaged in the Spanish-American War. Pershing had under him 3,700,000 men when he ended the conflict in 1918.

Roosevelt was a great and inspiring leader. But if he holds a high place in military history for his exploit of riding up Kettle Hill, what should be the place of the military genius who organized America's World War effort and won the World War?

General Pershing is not the stuff of which Presidents are made. He has no political genius; he knows nothing of the twists and turns and compromises by which political advancement is effected.

He is not a talker. He will converse with you an hour and never once use the pronoun "I." He is incapable of "blowing his own horn."

It is precisely because he had none of these qualities that he did the job entrusted to him. Stern, straightforward discipline and strict military methods may not be popular, but coupled with able leadership they win wars, and Pershing's business was to win the war. The intelligent unbiased opinion of the world acknowledges it. The American people, if they are grateful for past services, or even prayerful to Providence for future services, should recognize and reward the man who contributed so much to their glory and their safety.

Tomorrow General Pershing, at the age of 64, is automatically retired from active service, and his income from the government cut nearly in half.

A noted Englishman recently said:

"The American people have neglected General Pershing outrageously. Field Marshal Haig has been created an Earl, which ennobles his family now and in the future, and has been given more than a million dollars by the government and the people of Great Britain.

"Other foreign nations likewise have honored and remunerated their army chiefs.

"The United States, the richest country in the world, should in the proper way acknowledge service rendered by the individual who contributed the greatest single effort toward winning the World War."

The fact that "republics are ungrateful" simply means that the public seldom has the wisdom to look forward to a future service by adequately recognizing service already rendered. Apart from the justice of recognizing public service is the wisdom of doing it. Gratitude, like honesty, is the best policy. The people should not forget their able, loyal servants.

When Congress meets in December it should make provision for adequate, generous financial reward to General Pershing as a token of national appreciation of his services.

Defense Day

Tomorrow will be the sixth anniversary of the Battle of St. Mihiel; it will also be National Defense Day.

It is pleasant to know that most of the opposition to the purpose of the day has been silenced.

Governor Bryan of Nebraska termed the test mobilization which is the most important feature of the day's activities "a militaristic gesture." As well say that test fire drills have a tendency to invite fires.

President Coolidge, Secretary Weeks, General Pershing and others have ably defended the mobilization as a frank and open demonstration of necessary measures of national defense.

Briefly, the government plans a turnout of the regular army, the National Guard, the organized reserves and other male citizens of military age who wish to take a part.

National Guard units will be mobilized in their armories. For some of them, it will be the regular weekly meeting, little different from the others.

Reservists will report at places set forth in their orders. Probably those who would be seriously inconvenienced by reporting in person will be permitted to report by telephone.

In Boston, at night, there will be a demonstration on the Common, with reservists, guardsmen and regulars out.

Simply a test of the speed with which America COULD be organized for defense, and a series of meetings to stimulate public manifestations of loyalty and practical patriotism.

Both purposes are worthy ones. Boston should do its bit to make National Defense Day all the patriots who planned it meant it should be.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

NOW I know what the real estate advertisements mean when they command, "Own your OWN Home!" I've bought a house—at last!

* * *

Every day it opens its insatiable maw and calls for a different meal. One day you feed it a furnace, and the next kalsomine; the next, a few tons of coal; the next, rugs and linens and garden seed, and so on, ad infinitum.

Helen Rowland

Next to possessing a new husband or a new baby, owning a house is the most wonderful and thrilling thing in the world!

* * *

For a whole month you live in the sweet and seductive delusion that you do "own it"—and then you discover that it owns YOU!

* * *

Every day it swallows a week's income—and comes up smiling!

And yet, you LOVE it!

You trip up and down the stairs with your heart singing, "Mine, mine, mine!" You run your hand tenderly along its window ledges and pet its porch pillars with that sweet, delicious feeling of possessionship that makes your spine tingle and your throat ache.

With the passionate devotion of a mother for a child you are joyfully ready to sacrifice anything in the world for it!

If it wants a new coat of paint or a new hat of shingles, you cheerfully plan to do without that fur coat this season. If it demands a new cellar floor, you say, "Baby needs shoes!" and decide to give up your trip to the Riviera so that it may have its heart's desire.

* * *

Whatever it cries for or even hints at it GETS! For a house isn't a bit like a husband. You can't argue with it, or pout at it, or wheedle it, or browbeat it.

* * *

It is as tyrannical as a spoiled baby. You watch it and tend it and feed it and dress it. Every time you plant a flowerbed you feel as though you were tying ribbons on its hair. Putting up a new curtain is as much a joy as though you were arraying it in new rompers.

* * *

Oh, yes, owning a house it good for the soul!

It strengthens the will and teaches you self-discipline.

It develops your powers of self-restraint, and inspires you to self-sacrifice.

It cultivates your eye for beauty—and teaches you to be economical.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

WHEN Autumn's pomp and glory deck all the woodland ways, when hills lift softened outlines through misty mellow haze, I love to tread the pathway her gilded feet have trod where, over hill and valley, she drops the goldenrod. September's softest breezes are fain to linger there as though no fabled island could boast of charms as fair; for Autumn walks majestic, in gold and crimson shod where slanting sunlight shimmers on fields of goldenrod. The soft mists crown the mountain, the trees in scarlet glow, and slender grasses whisper to sleepy brooks below. A mystic spark of beauty imbues each senseless clod; but Nature's tenderest touches are on the goldenrod. Oh, leave the gold of cities men long have held too dear and seek the woodland places, the birds' songs sweet and clear! Seek out the tranquil sweetness of emerald leaf and sod, the priceless gold that glimmers upon the goldenrod. In Winter, Earth is shining through veils of fairy lace as fragile as the meshes across a fair bride's face. In Spring the tender beauty of budding life peeps through, the daffodils are dancing, the sky is softly blue. In Summer's ardent glory the harvest fields are fair, the fragrance of the flowers is heavy on the air. But Autumn walks, triumphant in golden slippers shod and leaves her shining footprints upon the goldenrod.

NATURE IN NO HURRY ONLY MAN RUSHES

By DR. FRANK CRANE

WHEN we speak of Nature we do not speak of what we can see, but of something behind that which we see. Nature is in no hurry. It is only mankind that hurries.

There are many things very beautiful in Nature, but many things grotesque, such as the monsters of the sea.

When painters reproduce a little bit of Nature they are highly gratified, yet Nature paints the most superb pictures constantly, whether there are those to see them or not.

All that lives comes from Nature. She seems to be rhythmic as to her lives. She produces plants in their season, and men in their generations, but the race continues.

Very little first-class literature has been written under the direct inspiration of Nature. Nature is usually too strong for the writers.

It is characteristic of Nature that it goes on while life stops. Nature has her ebb and flow, but it is eternal. It was here before we arrived; it will be here when we have gone.

There is nothing moral or immoral in Nature. She has her own morality.

There is infinite variety in Nature, and yet the strictest adherence to law.

There is abundance, generosity and waste in Nature, yet there is no waste. The leaves of the tree return to soil from which they came. Whatever Nature produces may fail in its object, but it succeeds in some other object.

Nature produces nothing that is alive and also straight. Her design manual is the curved line for living things. Among dead things I do not know of anything straight which Nature produces except quartz.

Nature is discordant and minor; and yet those who are accustomed to listen to her know that she is deeply musical.

The most beautiful objects of Nature depend upon water, for it is water that makes the clouds, the colors of the sunset and of the sea.

All obey Nature, yet is she not masterful or petulant?

Two of the greatest men who ever lived have had for their motto, "Return to Nature." One was the Frenchman, Rousseau, and the other was the Chinaman, Lao Tzu.

Lao Tzu said:

"The highest goodness is like water, for water is excellent and benefiting all things, yet it does not strive. It occupies the lowest place which men abhor."

We do not understand Nature because we do not understand water.

Lao Tzu says again:

"There is something chaotic, yet complete, which existed before heaven and earth. It stands alone without change, reaching everywhere without suffering harm. It must be regarded as the mother of the universe. Its name I do not know. Endeavoring to describe it I call it Great."

PALPITATIONS OF THE CELLS IN TREES

By Garrett P. Serviss

THE researches and speculations of the Hindoo botanist, Sir J. C. Bose, on the nature of the life of plants, as compared with that of animals, are very interesting through the strange thoughts that they suggest to the reader. Lately he has been experimenting on the curious phenomenon of "palpitations" of the cells in trees, which resemble the beating of the heart in animals.

He has invented delicate apparatus which mechanically records the palpitations, and he supposes that this phenomenon may be associated with the ascent of sap to elevations too great to be accounted for by capillary attraction.

His present researches are in extension of those whose results were received with both surprise and skepticism some years ago. He then showed that a plant responds to sudden disturbances and shocks, and to the effects of poisons, in a manner strikingly like that observed in animals under similar circumstances.

When the vitality of a plant suffers a violent shock the individual sometimes appears to fall into a faint. Something analogous to a nervous system seems to give the plant a sensitiveness resembling that usually assumed to be possessed only by the animal organism.

It is no new discovery that vegetative and animal life approach so closely to each other in their simplest and most primitive forms that no positive marks of difference can be detected. They seem to have started from a single life root, but to have become different tiated while following each its own line of evolution. And in their specialized and more complicated forms they diverge so widely that it once seemed quite natural to regard them as representing essentially different kingdoms of life.

A tree and an elephant, or a fly and a blade of grass, certainly and other forms of vegetation.

show no appearance of kinship and trusting to ordinary means of investigation, one would never conceive the least inkling of the idea that such diametrical opposites had a common origin. Yet that idea is not difficult to grasp when once the fundamental conception of evolution is understood. And this conception is the fruit not of a prior speculation, but of direct observation. It is, perhaps, the most splendid product of Bacon's system of scientific investigation.

No one who has studied the evidence accumulated in later times can refuse for a moment to accept Professor Leclerc's statement that: "The two kingdoms, animal and vegetable though distinct in their upper (more advanced specialized) parts, unite at their base, where it is impossible to establish any but an arbitrary line of demarkation between them."

The trouble of the separatists becomes unbearable when they go back to the forms of life which are summed up in single cells, and it has been proposed to escape from the predicament by inventing a third life kingdom, that of the "Protista," to include all organisms formed of a single cell. But this is only forcing another noun into the already unmemorizable pages of the dictionaries of science.

Besides, it now appears from such researches as those of Bose, that it is unnecessary to go back to the most primitive forms of life in order to find an essential resemblance between animals and plants. The more the physiology of the plants is studied the less pronounced become the differences which would seem to set the life of these creatures in opposition to that of the animals."

In ancient thought, whether philosophical or religious, we often find surprising forecasts of modern scientific ideas, and something of that kind may be seen in the old legends and traditions ascribed to plant-conscious life to trees

ONCE-OVERS

Do Not Shut Your Eyes to a Wrong Because of Fear of Giving Offense

To have knowledge of a wrong and do nothing to stop it is as criminal as committing the wrong personally.

If you know that a force is active among the "very best people in town" and it is teaching your child to be a "crook," are you going to keep still and let it go on?

Do you think first about whom you would offend by your opposition?

Or have you sense enough to realize that association in the most exclusive circles cannot make your child honest if his heart is black?

Any person, club or society which teaches that because you have been "stung" you should go out and do likewise to another so as to get back what you lost by allowing yourself to be roped in, is as criminal in intent and purpose as the highwayman who makes his living by being a thug.

If the fear of being unpopular deters you from taking a stand squarely against such methods, you are a poor stick of a man, woman, girl or boy.

If you have young folks under your care and you do not take a stand and show your disapproval of such unprincipled conduct because you fear the displeasure of your young charges, you do not deserve the confidence of the parents.
